About

inkd

Katie Fearn is a Liverpool based Cosmetic Permanent Makeup Artist. Katie qualified in her first PMU treatment in 2019 and has since attended numerous courses and masterclasses to improve her skillset and knowledge.

Before starting her PMU career Katie worked in healthcare - 10 years with North West Ambulance Service & 3 years in NHS Blood Donation - and is a qualified phlebotomist. After becoming a mother Katie decided to start her own business to enable her to work around her children and earn more money, all whilst creating a better work life balance for herself.

4 Years on Katie is one of the most skilled Microblading artists in the North West and is an approved training partner with Killer Beauty, one of the UK's biggest tattoo suppliers.

"I'm incredibly passionate about the PMU industry and believe that proper foundation training really makes a huge difference - this is why I'm on a mission to provide the best training possible"

A career in Permanent Makeup

Completing a fundamental training course with INKD will ensure that you have the skills to start your business well and with all the information that you need. Katie invests greatly in each and every student and will always ensure any questions you have are answered with facts and reason.

Permanent Makeup treatments range in price depending on area but in your first year of trading there is real prospect of carving out a prosperous career, whilst working part time. If you work hard to develop your skill the earning potential is limitless, brows are always in demand and being fully booked months in advance myself I'm living proof that it is possible!
